

Black and white photograph of a long, narrow object, possibly a piece of wood or a tool, lying horizontally on a textured surface. The object has a small, light-colored rectangular label attached to its right side. The background is dark and grainy.

